1905 the Senior Surgeon recommended retransfer to White Field but the Board of Bangalore opined that the dispensary should be located a building to the north of the Varthur tank. On reconsideration the President reported that it was unnecessary to shift the dispensary at Varthur, & you directed that the Hospital assistant at Varthur should visit White Field thrice a week.

3) On account of the prevalence of plague at Varthur, the dispensary there was temporarily transferred to White field in Oct 1906 and it is not known whether it has since been retransferred in accordance with your order directing its retransfer when plague subsides.

4) The President of the Wh Board of Bangalore now reports with reference to a letter of the Honary Secretary White field Anglo Indian association praying for the permanent location of the removal to White Field was ordered in Jany 1907 with a direction that it should be retransferred to Vartur soon after plague subsided there. The settlers at White field want the dispensary to be permanently located there alone while the residents of Vartur urge its retransfer to their village. The Bd Board on a consideration of the question have resolved that it should be located in a building at Ramgondanhally. The rent of the building is Rs 4 per mensem & the dispensary is at present located at White field & not retransferred to Vartur as directed.

I am satisfied that Vartur is the proper place for the dispensary. But there is not a house in it fit for such. A dispensary with in-patient accommodation and Hospital Assistant's and Midwife's quarters are therefore required & may well be built near the Police Station on a small field that is available there. Meanwhile, the dispensary may remain at Whitefield in the house at present occupied by it and which will do as a temporary measure.
